PRIVY COUNCIL
HEARD RAILWAY
RATES APPEAL
SIX SESSIONS

Premier King Promises Decision as Early as Possible

ALL ANGLES HEARD IN LENGTHY MEET

McGeer Urges Removal of Three Kinds of Discrimination

OTTAWA, Aug. 14.—(Canadian Press)—G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for British Columbia and Alberta in the appeal of the private rates for a reduction in freight rates, concluded his rebuttal argument today, and Premier King promised that a decision would be rendered as soon as conditions permitted. The hearing began yesterday afternoon and occupied the council's attention during six sittings.

Counsel for British Columbia and Alberta contended that freight rates in these provinces were discriminatory, while G. C. McGeer, for the Railways Association of Canada, opposed the application. Isaac Pittblu, K.C., appeared for the Canadian Manufacturers and the Winnipeg board of trade in opposition to the appeal.

Justified
Mr. Chrystal argued that the British Columbia rates were and had been seen set by the railway companies after many factors had been taken into account. Mr. Pittblu's contention was that the railroads were not ready to avail itself of its natural advantages, and that the disadvantages removed at the expense of sister provinces, Great Britain, the Maritime Provinces, the Canadian National railways, was pre-emptive. He urged that the railroads take an active part because of a proposal to have a commission directing the railway board to fix just and equitable freight rates within the public-owned system. He felt, however, that the railroads' appeal was for the railway com-mision and not the privy council. Mr. Frank J. McGeer in association with Mr. McGeer in Alberta was associated with Mr. McGeer in Alberta.

Otto Sugar Refinery
The application for a rate of discrimination was urged by Mr. McGeer today, following his reply to opposition to the application for a sugar refinery in Vancouver to be put on the market. The Otto Sugar and Refining Co. in Montreal on the complaint in a motion against the railroads from the refinery. In the second place he argued that the manufacturers were not to be put on an equality basis with those of Vancouver.

In the third place he argued that Vancouver should not be put on an equality basis with the railroads which naturally tributary to the railroads. He urged that a discrimination injure an individual as well as the railroads, and the railroads, due to the nature of the railroads to interfere.

NAPHTHA LAMPS MUST COMPLY WITH STANDARD

OTTAWA, Aug. 14.—Regulations governing the use of naphtha lamps in lamps have been established by an order of the Canadian government that naphtha shall not be sold for use in lamps unless the lamp is certified by the Canadian Fire Underwriters' association or the Western Fire Underwriters' association.

MILITARY EVACUATION
SYDNEY STRIKE AREA

SYDNEY, N. S., Aug. 14.—The military evacuation of Cape Breton strike areas will be complete before the end of the month. The forces which for more than two weeks have been holding out in the Sydney district, tonight boarded two special trains for the mainland.

LOCAL FARMERS SLOW TO GIVE ORDERS FOR HARVEST HELPERS

Farmers are unusually slow this season in placing orders for harvesters, yet within ten days the demand for harvesters will be great. The Eastern Canola is due in Winnipeg on Aug. 25, and the morning 250 men passed through the city bound for the West.

This has not been the case in northern Alberta, where the grainmen are to get their place men will not be diverted from Winnipeg in a hurry under the circumstances.

As all the British Columbia harvesters passing through almost daily on the regular trains are booked up, the grainmen are turning to Alberta and to Saskatchewan, so will the grainmen in the West, and the rival at Winnipeg flock to answer Saskatchewan calls. Cities from Sault Ste. Marie to Vancouver have a province calling for men is Corom-pington, although their harvest is

Who Said "Love Is Blind"

Happily Married Fifty Years Without Seeing Each Other

MRS. T. J. McCULLUM (LEFT) AND HUSBAND

By Ned Service.

LORAIN, O., Aug. 10.—There are some people who tell you that love is blind. Mrs. McCullum and her husband, T. J. McCullum, are proof to the contrary.

For the McCullums have lived together happily for more than half a century, and neither ever has seen the other.

Both are blind, but with their sense of touch and taste, and their hearing, they have lived a happy life.

Comes a fallow on the stairway, Mrs. McCullum stops her dancing, and calls, "Come, call 'em, I find my in the parlor."

He does.

Let Mrs. McCullum explain.

Happy Blind Child

"I am in compensation for the loss of my sight, God has sharpened my other senses. The touch of the McCullums have had four children. Just now they are living now.

Mrs. McCullum, now 87, was deprived of her sight in childhood by a disease, and when 18, was born blind.

Her met for the first time with Cupid, but he had brought them together, and not the other way.

Both are blind, but with their sense of touch and taste, and their hearing, they have lived a happy life.

Comes a fallow on the stairway, Mrs. McCullum stops her dancing, and calls, "Come, call 'em, I find my in the parlor."

At that time I was having my wife sent to me. This time I was having and sent me a box of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and I can speak too highly of it for what it did for me.

For the past two years I have had several trouble from water, from drinking water which the have done for the past five years living in the country, the only remedy we use is Dr. Fowler's and nothing else. I can assure you it cannot be beat for instant relief.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 10 years, you don't get it with new remedies when you buy it, but it sure is a good product. You can't say for it as a substitute may be dangerous to your health.

THE SAPIO GOSPEL

A special feature of the gospel according to Sapiro is the frequency with which he gives his disciples at least two choices in matters of faith or doctrine. An outstanding instance is his declaration of principle on the question of government marketing. The Calgary Herald and Edmonton Journal, in what is stated to be a verbatim report of Mr. Sapiro's speech in the Presbyterian church on the afternoon of Friday, August 3rd, quote him as saying:

"I am completely, absolutely and unreservedly against the government having anything to do with co-operative marketing group." says Mr. Sapiro. And then he expresses his endorsement of Premier Greenfield, using "all the legitimate powers of government" to help on the organization of the pool.

As a matter of rhetoric Sapiro is against governmental aid in any form, even more "contempt" as a matter of actual practice he expects Premier Greenfield to get into the harness and pull for all he is worth—both himself, his colleagues and his supporters. And when he tells them to, that settles it, no matter what fine sounding theories he may have expressed or the premier endorsed. In other words we have no such thing as responsible government in Alberta. The leadership of H. W. Wood was bad enough, but the dictatorship of Aaron Sapiro of Los Angeles is bound to lead to even worse consequences unless it is checked.

In excuse for the government taking $5,000 out of the treasury to finance the organization of a wheat pool it may be said that it is only taken as a loan, to be returned by the pool when made out of the sales of wheat. If the pool is not formed the money is lost to the province. Having advanced the money the government is bound to see the pool formed in order to protect the treasury. That absolutely commits the government as a government to the formation of the pool. Individual members of a government cannot as individuals cash out of the public treasury even as a loan. That can only be done on governmental re-sponsibility.

A peculiar feature at the meeting of legislators on Friday last was that members were asked to pledge themselves to canvas for signatures to a financially binding contract which had not yet been prepared and in whose preparation they were to have no say. When points of importance in connection with the provisions of the proposed contract were discussed there was an absolute lack of agreement as to what its terms were to be.

It was understood that a partial payment would be made on delivery of the wheat, but whether that was to be a percentage of the market price of that day or a fixed amount, no one knew. Much less was it known what the amount per bushel would be if it was fixed, or what the percentage would be if it was to be a percentage. Only three members of the organization committee of seventeen were present with the legislators. They could give no information because committee decisions had not been reached on the points in question. The idea evidently was that the legislature as a whole should take its orders from a delegation of the organization committee. This seemed to be quite agreeable to the majority.

If grain is handled in bulk, elevators must be used. They must be leased, purchased or built. To the question as to whether the cost of elevators would have to be paid for within the five-year term of the proposed contract there was no answer. Nor was there any answer as to when the farmer would receive his final returns on the sale of his wheat. There was no definite expression of opinion on the part of the members supporting the pool as to whether the expected profits that were to justify the scheme were to come from a reduction of dealers' profits or from forcing up the world price. One member strongly supporting the pool did not expect better prices. He supported the pool because he expected it to equalize prices as between the less and the more conveniently located and successful farmers. If that is all that is expected to achieve by upsetting the present system of competitive marketing, with every deference to all concerned, the reason is not adequate to the risk of mischance resulting from the change. Certainly it falls far short of Mr. Sapiro's peroration in which he was going to lift the mortgages, give the children a university education and generally spread "opportunity of 'beauty and culture and all the things that make for the fitness of life and the happiness of 'living'" throughout the land as a result of the difference in the price of wheat to be realized between "merchandising" and "dumping"—in other words between selling to the consumer at market prices and holding him up for a price higher than the market. One thing that Mr. Sapiro left no impressions on was that the objective of his system was to make the consumer pay—and pay a plenty.

On Friday, Aug. 3rd, the principle of no governmental assistance or interference is enunciated by Mr. Sapiro, approved by Mr. Greenfield and endorsed by the applause of the audience, and on Friday, Aug. 10th, the premier, his cabinet and his supporters in the legislature mutually agree to use their official position and personal efforts as members of the government and legislature to secure the signatures necessary to make the scheme practicable. They also agree to take money out of the provincial treasury up to $5,000 to pay their own expenses in doing so, and then undertake to bulldoze the opposition into endorsing their action.

The premier's change of front from anti-Sapiro to pro-Sapiro was about three days more sudden, but was not nearly as important, as his change from governmental aloofness to governmental support of the project of tying up the farmers' wheat for the five-year term demanded by Mr. Sapiro.

But Mr. Sapiro's address carries an endorsement of Premier Greenfield's later action that will no doubt fully justify it in the eyes of all true Sapiro disciples. Mr. Sapiro is quoted as having said:

"I would say, the government standing behind the pool, means that Premier Greenfield, with all of his staff, all his ministers, is throwing himself with all the personal and moral support he can give into this pool movement to tell the people of Alberta that whatever they want, that whatever they determine to do for themselves, he wants them to do, and that he will use all the legitimate powers of government to help them to do it, including his personal presence, his personal energy and all that his character and influence stand for."

"I am against the government's contact with any co-operative marketing group," says Mr. Sapiro. And then he expresses his endorsement of Premier Greenfield, using "all the legitimate powers of government" to help on the organization of the pool.

As a matter of rhetoric Sapiro is against governmental aid in any form, even more "contempt" as a matter of actual practice he expects Premier Greenfield to get into the harness and pull for all he is worth—both himself, his colleagues and his supporters. And when he tells them to, that settles it, no matter what fine sounding theories he may have expressed or the premier endorsed. In other words we have no such thing as responsible government in Alberta. The leadership of H. W. Wood was bad enough, but the dictatorship of Aaron Sapiro of Los Angeles is bound to lead to even worse consequences unless it is checked.

In excuse for the government taking $5,000 out of the treasury to finance the organization of a wheat pool it may be said that it is only taken as a loan, to be returned by the pool when made out of the sales of wheat. If the pool is not formed the money is lost to the province. Having advanced the money the government is bound to see the pool formed in order to protect the treasury. That absolutely commits the government as a government to the formation of the pool. Individual members of a government cannot as individuals cash out of the public treasury even as a loan. That can only be done on governmental responsibility.

DENIES MENTIONING U.S.

Editor, The Bulletin:

Editor of last night's (your) newspaper in your regular meeting, you credit the following statement to me:

"The War was independent, not General Greenfield's, and the United States and Great Britain decided to adopt a policy of neutrality."

I do not think that I mentioned

such a statement, nor do I know of any address or certainly did not make such a statement in the above connection.

WEEDS ALL OVER

Editor, The Bulletin:

Now that we are reaping

over the prospects of a record crop, the question of the possible authorities to the alarming

amount of weeds in the fields is uppermost in the minds of farmers.

For the Government (a Farmer's) part of that, doing. Have all the farmers in the province

been advised to do?

WHEAT POOL

SIGN-UP WEEK
AUGUST 20-25

Alberta has decided to have a voluntary Wheat Pool. The Government, the U. F. A. farmers outside the U. F. A. the business men of towns and cities all classes are united in favoring a Wheat Pool as the best way to help the farmers and the general prosperity of everybody in this Province.

A Provincial Wheat Pool Committee has been formed to work out the details of operation, including contract, examining and so forth.

This committee is confident about the outcome, provided that the farmers are willing to sign up in one way or another.

How can that be done? In one way only. By signing up with the Pool. By signing the contract.

Contract Sign-up Week has been fixed to begin August 20th. In that week the farmers in your district will be signing up with the Pool. This is your opportunity. If you want the Pool, sign the contract. If you don't want the Pool, don't sign the contract. There is no way to keep out of the Pool except by signing up with the Pool.

Contract forms and all information are being sent to the U. F. A. Secretary in your district, your local M.L.A., Board of Trade and town council. Find out what your neighbors are doing. Find out what the cares we've got.

We will reach some time the Border Land, O'er hearts at rest we will understand.

When the grief we've known and the cares we've had will be over, we'll know the love we've

had. Will silently steal away the morn.

We'll gather in gain from the acres of love,

Love of all under the blue skies above.

We'll rise triumphant; we can't go wrong;

It is our courage that keeps strong.

T. LLOYD FINLAYSON.

COURAGE

Each day we'll greet with a glad hello,

It is our courage that keeps us so;

The way we tackle the tasks we find.

With a conscience clear and a confident mind.

The wiles of the coward we'll spurn to employ,

We'll build up an honor no tongue can destroy.

And the prayers we heed at our mother's knee.

Our strongest fort and our faith shall be.

We will reach some time the Border Land,

O'er hearts at rest we will understand.

When the grief we've known and the cares we've had will be over, we'll know the love we've

had. Will silently steal away the morn.

We'll gather in gain from the acres of love,

Love of all under the blue skies above.

We'll rise triumphant; we can't go wrong;

It is our courage that keeps strong.
